I. READING & VOCABULARY (10 Marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below.

So you thought the burger was the world’s most popular fast food, the ultimate fast food. It is, of course, the pizza.

It’s kind of silly to talk about the moment when pizza was invented. It gradually evolved over the years, but one thing’s for certain – it’s been around a very long time. The idea of using pieces of flat, round bread as plates came from Greeks. They called them “plankuntos” and ate them with various simple toppings such as oil, garlic, onion and herbs. The Romans enjoyed eating something similar and called it “picea”. By about 1000 A.D. in the city of Naples, picea had become “pizza “and people were experimenting with more toppings: cheese, meat, anchovies and finally the tomato, brought to Italy from Mexico and Peru in the sixteenth century.

Naples became the pizza capital of the world. In 1889, King Umberto I and Queen Margherita heard about pizza and asked to try it. They invited pizza maker Raffaele Esposito to make it for them. He decided to make the pizza like the Italian flag, so he used red tomatoes, white mozzarella cheese and green basil leaves. The Queen loved it and the new pizza was named “Pizza Margherita” in her honor.

Pizza migrated to America with the Italians at the end of the nineteenth century. The first pizzeria in the United States was opened in 1905 at 53 Spring Street, New York City, by Gennaro Lombardi. But the popularity of pizza really exploded when American soldiers returned from Italy after World War II and raved about the great Italian dish. Americans are now the greatest producers and consumers of pizza in the world.

Pizza is $30 billion per year industry. October is national pizza month in the United States.
