I – ESP (30 Marks)

A - Read the following passage and do as directed. (6 Marks)

The Gotthard Base Tunnel (GBT) will be the longest railway tunnel in the world. Engineers are building it now, in Switzerland, under the Alps. They will finish the project in 2016-2017.

Today, many trucks use the roads over the Alps. In the future, they will use the GBT. The tunnel will connect Zurich in Switzerland with Milan in Italy.

There will be two tunnels. Each tunnel will be about 57 km long. They will run about 600 meters below the old St Gotthard railway tunnel.

The new trains will use electricity. Some trains will carry trucks and cars. Fast passenger trains will travel at 250 kph. About 200-250 trains per day will use the GBT.
